PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

During the current year we have seen the first step in our campus streets improvement. By September 1960 this program will be complete. March 18 we broke ground for our Hoke Hall addition. This project also will be complete by September 1960. Study is now under way for dormitory additions and possible additional married housing.

Enrollment at Eastern Oregon College reached its all time high last October with 778 students. We expect reasonably soon to pass the 1,000 mark. In September 1960 we will initially offer lower division agriculture. This program will be jointly sponsored by Oregon State College and Eastern Oregon College. Increasingly we are privileged to serve the eastern area of this great state as a regional college. This new emphasis can have real meaning for both the college and the state.

Student Government

Playing the most important role in student government on our campus is the Student Council. The Council represents and acts as the legal administrative body in carrying out the activities of the ASEOC, Directing the nineteen-member council is the Student Body President with the supporting members being the Executive Council, two representatives from each class, from off-campus, and the dormitories, and one EOCene representative.

Freshman Daze

Freshman orientation week was an exciting yet confusing week for some two-hundred twenty-five bewildered freshmen. This week consisted of exams, talent shows, assemblies, dances, meetings with the professors, and dorm meetings. After a week of this all the new members on campus were willing to get down to that business of studying.

This is a typical scene during freshman initiation. Only here the tables have been turned and Jean Hunter, a senior, is getting painted with the lipstick.

During freshman orientation week all freshman students were required to pass a basic skills test. If they passed this test they were able to take any type of P.E.

This is a typical scene during freshman week. Everyone is concentrating on their English entrance exam.

QUEEN GAIL FISHER

Homecoming '59

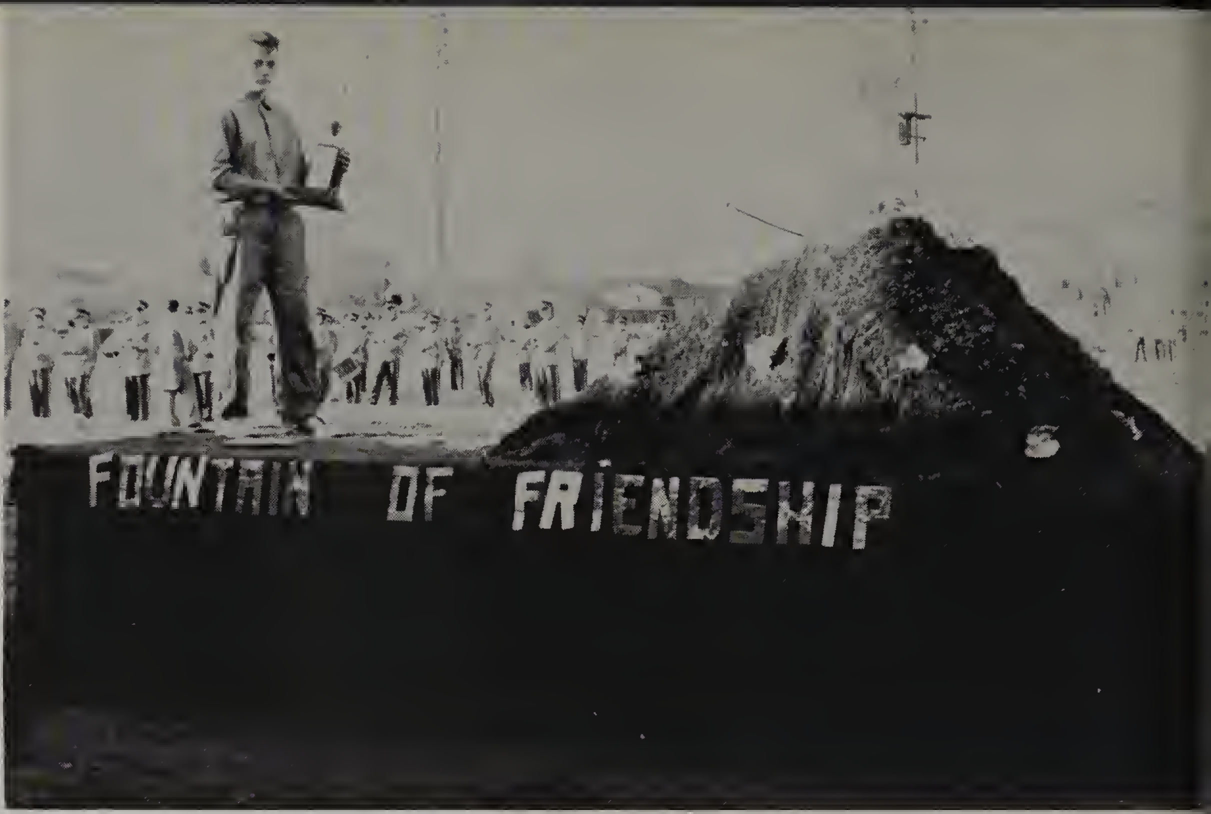
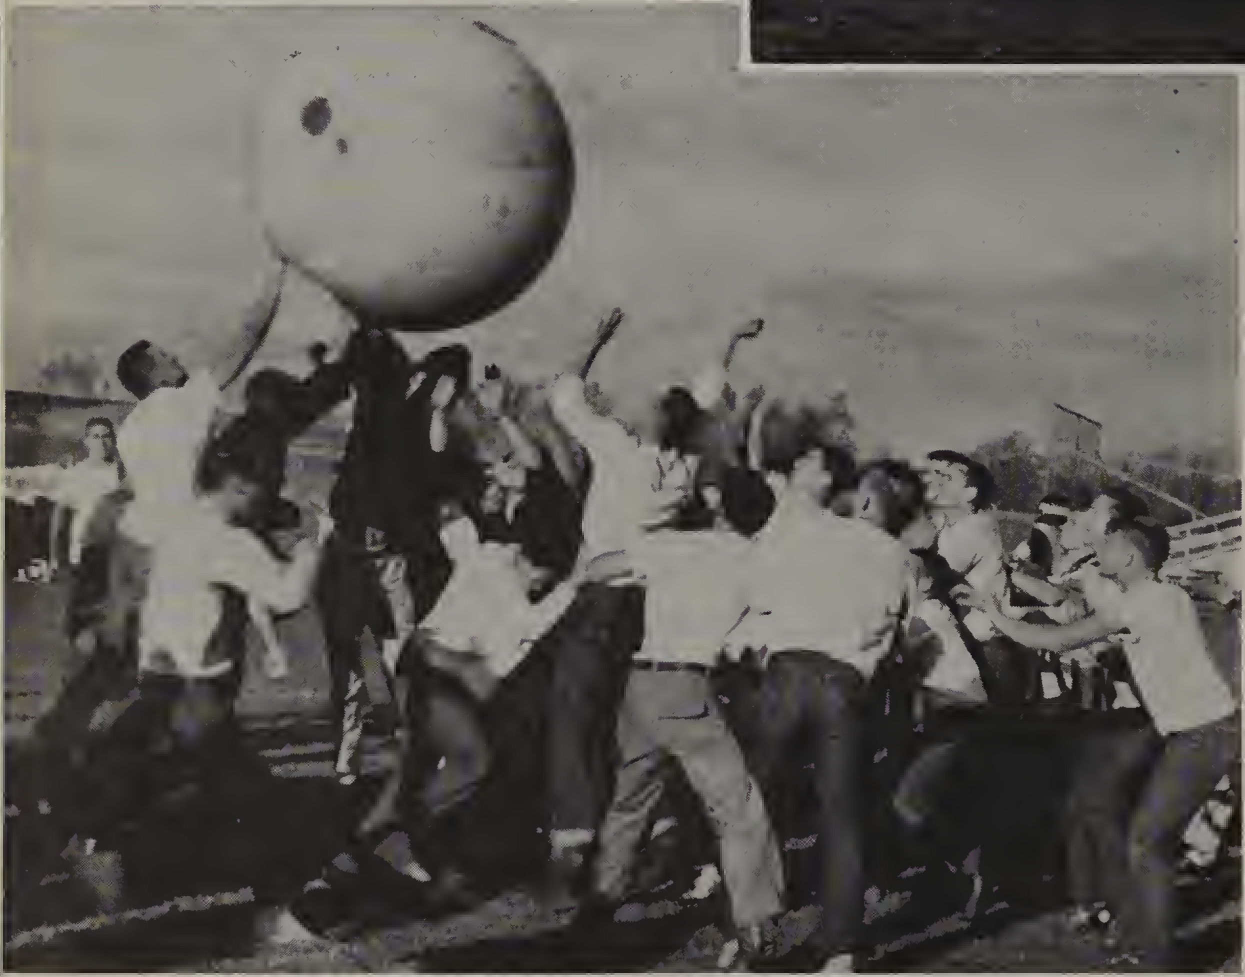
Homecoming 1959 saw several changes, including a major one in the process for the coronation of the Queen. Under the supervision of ASB President Bev Donovan, the committee decided to move the coronation site to the steps west of the Ad Building. After the crowning of Queen Gail Fisher and the presentation of Princesses Marcia MacPherson and Judy Wardell, the EOC band led a serpentine to the college Coliseum for a pep rally and then moved on to the site of the bonfire.

Winning Float — painted bronze, Roger Holm, freshman, helped to carry out the theme "Fountain of Friendship" of float built by Collegians and the International Relations Club.





Saturday's weather was probably the best in the past several years, as attested to by the number of Alumni that turned out for the parade with its beautiful floats, the football game which EOC won 7-0 over PSC, and then many other events which were part of the traditional celebration. Half-time entertainment consisted of upperclassmen and freshmen battling over the large ball pictured. Each side attempted to push the ball to the opponents' end of the field.

Thanks to our hard working co-chairmen, Ardyce Garrett and Mike Ferguson, homecoming was a real success. Among changes made was the replacement of the upperclassmen fight to light the bonfire with the fight for a torch which was resting on a greased pole. The winning students presented the queen with the torch and the bonfire was lighted in their honor.

Queen Gail being presented the winning football after the game.

John Willmarth, junior fullback from La Grande, was captain of the team and was capable of playing any position. He was an outstanding punter and kicker, a hard runner, a deadly tackler and made all-conference linebacker. John is also an outstanding student on the honor roll.

The biggest member of the football team was Bob Salter, a sophomore from Ione. Bob played tackle and made all-conference this year. He was fast and quick for his size and was strong on both offense and defense. Bob is attending school on an academic scholarship.

Sam Clack, sophomore halfback from Union, was an outstanding defensive halfback and linebacker. He was tough and aggressive at all times and was better than average in running. Sam made the second team all-conference for two years.

INDIVIDUAL OFFENSE

Willmarth played in 7 games, made 49 plays, rushed 97 yards for a game average of 13.85. Williams played in 4 games, made 40 plays, rushed 226 yards for an average of 56.5. Whiteley played in 9 games, made 64 plays, rushed 184 yards for an average of 20.44 per game. McKinney played in 6 games, made 54 plays, rushed 40 yards for an average of 17.83 per game. Clack played in 7 games, made 62 plays, rushed 143 yards for an average of 20.42 per game. Holt played one game, made 2 plays, rushed 3 yards for an average of 3.00 yards per game. ### INDIVIDUAL PASSING OFFENSE

Gene McKinney and Sam Clack were the only two players that did any passing during the 1959 football season. Gene attempted 34 passes in 6 games and completed 9 to gain a total of 67 yards. Sam attempted 2 passes in one game but none were completed.

Above: Jim Neece, junior guard from Prineville, played his third year for EOC Mounties and was considered to be an aggressive player. He played defensive end but was experienced in all the line positions. Below: Bill McCadden, junior center from Cambridge, Idaho, was slowed down part of the season with an injury but was a dependable snap man.

Above: Daryl Corey, junior guard from Stanfield was a determined blocker with fine football mind. He played to the full potential despite his lack of size and was considered very dependable and a fine student. Below: Bob Smith, junior center from Inverness, Miss., was a steady performer in any line position. He played offense and defense equally well.

Above Center: Jack Wood, senior halfback from Elgin, was the only four year member of the squad. He played defensive linebacker and was aggressive and smart. Although he was injured through half of the season, he was a credit to the ball club and a good student.

INDIVIDUAL PASS RECEIVING

Miller in 5 games caught 5 passes to gain 53 yards for a game average of 10.6. Williams in 4 games caught 4 passes to gain 9.25 yards per game. Hughbanks in 4 games caught 4 passes to gain 7 yards for a game average of 1.75. Clack caught 6 passes in 7 games making a total gain of 41 yards and an average of 5.78 per game. Clark caught 1 pass in 1 game gaining 11 yards for an average of 11 yards per game. Bagnall in one game caught one pass to gain 9 yards for an average of 9 yards per game.

Above: Ray Porter, freshman tackle from Pilot Rock, was very outstanding as defensive linesman. He was aggressive and tough and had a terrific potential for a freshman. Below: Gene McKinney, junior quarterback from Union, was a good runner and a potential passer. He learned his new position rapidly having played fullback before and had an above average punting ability.

Above: Ron Robinson, freshman guard from Union, was a strong punter and kick-off man. He was hindered by an injury part of the season but still was fast and aggressive and is definite all-conference material. Below: Dean Whitely, sophomore fullback from Athena, was a real hard runner with good speed. He was the workhorse of the offensive backfield and always good for yardage.

Above Center: Jerry Williams, sophomore halfback from La Grande had an average of 5 yards per carry. He was an outstanding runner in conference but was out with injury after two games. He had good speed, size, and was a determined player.

INDIVIDUAL PUNTING

John Willmarth made 6 punts for a total of 221 yards and an average of 36.8.

Above: Chuck Hughbanks, senior end from Prineville, was very good for blocking despite his lack of size. He was a smart football player with desire for his second year in college football. Below: Larry Snook, freshman end from Wallowa, finished season as a fast improving defensive halfback. He was a good tackler with a fine attitude and will play lots of football in years to come.

Above: Phil Miller, junior end from La Grande, was a transfer from Coalinga JC. Phil made second team all-conference and was very dependable as well as aggressive. He was a fine receiver lacking only in top speed and was a good all around football player. Below: Bob Johnson, freshman tackle from Baker, was a solid lineman with good fundamentals. Will see lots of action in years to come.

Above Center: John Clark, sophomore end from La Grande, gave all he had and is a good all-around athlete. John should be real good in the next two years.

INDIVIDUAL SCORING

The Eastern Oregon Mounties scored 12 touchdowns and made 10 extra points to bring the total number of points to 82. The individual breakdown goes as follows: Willmarth, 34; Williams, 6; Becker, 6; Miller, 6; Bagnall, 6; McKinney, 6; and Larson, 6.

Above: Dean Keefer, sophomore tackle from La Grande, was impossible to hurt. Playing more minutes of play than any other squad member Dean made second team all-conference. Below: Chuck Becker, freshman end from Vale, developed into an outstanding defensive back and was capable of offensive guard, end, or halfback. Chuck loves football and should be great through the years.

Above: Keippie May, sophomore tackle from Pilot Rock, played only half the season but came along well as a potentially great lineman who was strong and determined. Below: Rick Larson, freshman halfback from Sisters was tough and dependable and moved into first team position at the end of the season.

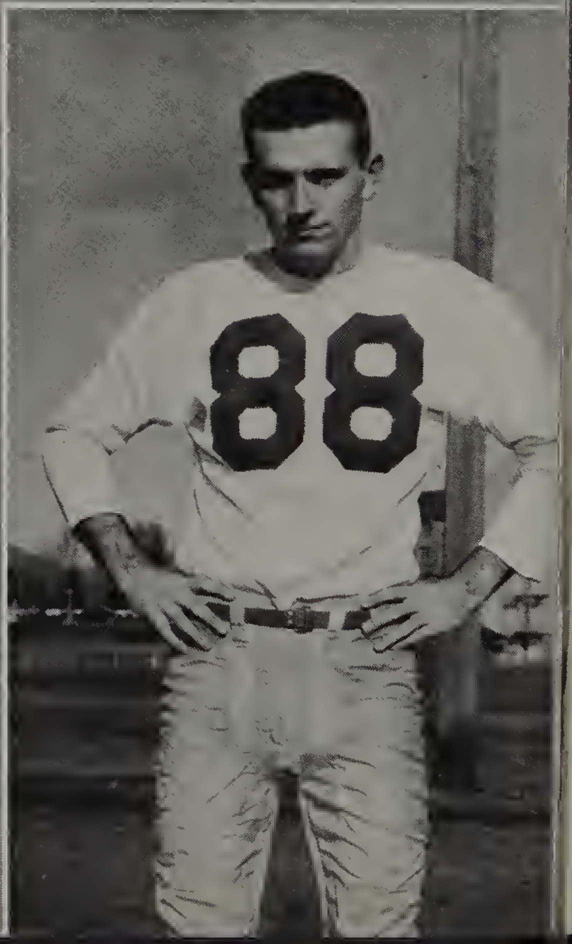
Above Center: Richard Pollard from Union played in the guard position for the Mounties this year. Rich could play either offense or defense and with additional size and speed will assure outstanding success.

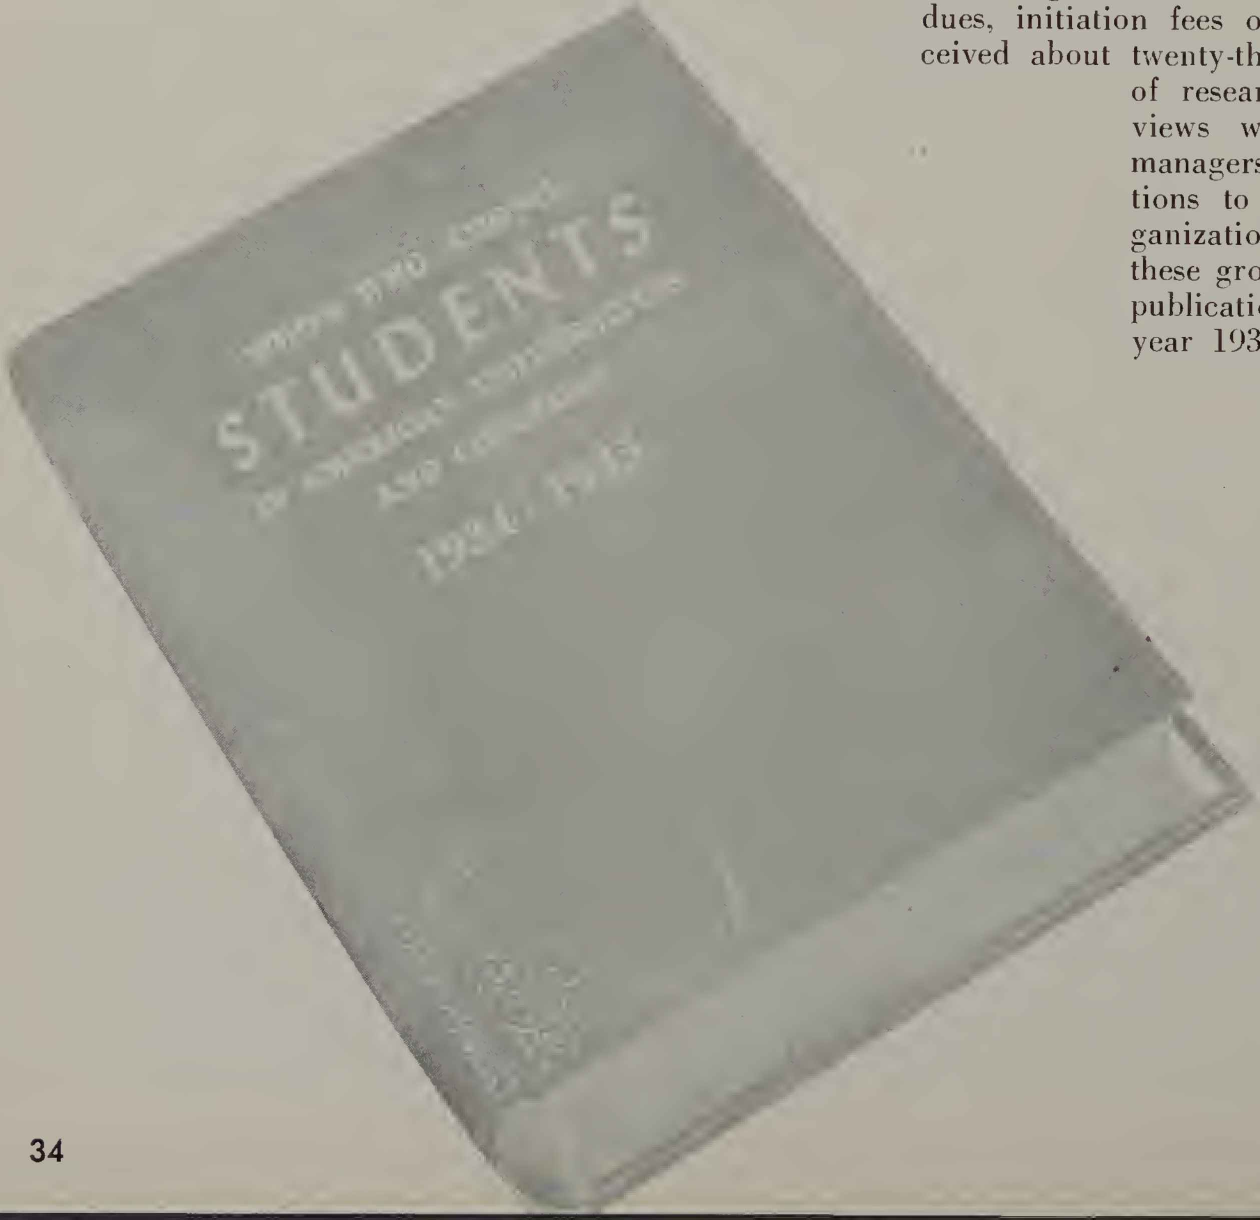
Football is the main sport of fall term. This year the boys spent two to three hours practicing everyday starting from the 14th of September. After working hard all season twenty-six players lettered. The Mountie squad lost two seniors but left eleven freshmen, eight sophomores, and seven juniors to return again next year. With potential of this kind the Eastern Oregon Mounties should go places in 1960.

Above: Charles Searcy, freshman from The Dalles, played in the end position. He is dependable with much desire to play but still needs additional experience. Below: Alan Moser, freshman end from La Grande, has a good football head with lots of potential. He is a possible quarterback candidate having played reserve ball this year.

Above: Scott Bannister, freshman tackle from Weston, made a move from 6-man ball with ease. He is youngest member of the squad but has great potential. Below: Dennis Bagnall, freshman end from Pendleton, was out with injury after three games. Dennis shows great potential as an offensive and defensive player. Lots of speed!

Above Center: Gordon Meyers, sophomore tackle from Joseph, was a good defensive lineman. He could fill in at any position and had good speed and aggressiveness. Gordon was hurt part of the season but is very dependable.





The idea of creating one national basis of recognition for college students that would be democratic and devoid of dues, initiation fees or other cost to the student was conceived about twenty-three years ago. Then came two years of research, correspondence, travel, and interviews with college administrators, personnel managers, students and undergraduate organizations to determine the need for such an organization as WHO'S WHO. Endorsement by these groups encouraged the venture; thus their publication first came into print for the school year 1934-35.

This year Virginia Wellington, Mildred Wagner, Lyle Endicott, Linda Kane, Pasco Arritola, John Wilmarth, Bev Donovan, Jo Ann Berryman, Oran Hutton, Mike Ferguson, and Carolyn Muller Ferguson (pictured), Jean Hunter and Sylvia Thompson received a formal letter beginning "You have been recommended to us from your campus for recognition . . ."

The students recognized by this organization each year are nominated from approximately 750 colleges and universities. Campus nominating committees are instructed to consider, in making their selections, the student's scholarship; his participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; his promise of future usefulness.

Assemblies

Solid Gold Cadillac

"The Solid Gold Cadillac," as its authors state, "is a fairy story, of Cinderella and the four ugly corporation directors." Once upon a time, a sweet little old lady went down to Wall Street to attend a stockholder's meeting. Once at the meeting, she asked so many embarassing questions that the chairman of the board put her to work to shut her up. But the deaf old soul refused to remain shut up, and in no time at all the ugly corporation directors shuttle her off to Washington to convince Big Ed, a member of the President's cabinet, to send some defense contracts their way. At that point, the little old lady talks Big Ed into coming back home to regain control of the company and the fight is on.

The Freshman class of 1959-60 put in a busy year. They worked closely with the Rally Squad in the Rook Rally Rousers headed by Fred Kelly. During Freshman Days they presented the freshman talent assembly under the direction of Ruth and Beth Combs. This year's freshmen initiated the "greased pole" which replaced fighting for the torch during homecoming activities.

Interfaith Conference

Eastern Oregon's annual Religion in Life Conference is planned each year by the College Interfaith Fellowship and is held during National Brotherhood Week. During February 23, 24, 25, of this year our 1960 Interfaith team consisting of Dr. Francis E. Dart, Associate Professor of Physics, University of Oregon; Mr. John H. Hancock, Missionary Volunteer Department, Seventh-Day Adventist Church; Father Louis Haven, Department of Theology, Gonzaga University, Spokane; Dr. Daniel H. Ludlow, Associate Professor of Religion, Brigham Young University; Mr. E. Shelton Hill, Executive Secretary of the Urban League, Portland; and Rev. V. Leon Bolen, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Pocatello, Idaho, who is an alumnus of Eastern Oregon College of the class of 1950. He received his Bachelor of Theology degree at Hiff Theological Seminary, Denver, Colorado. Prior to his appointment to the First Methodist Church in Pocatello, he held a five-year pastorage in Boise, Idaho. The annual Interfaith Banquet at Hoke Hall was held on Wednesday evening for all the Interfaith Team, students, faculty and regional clergymen. Thursday saw the close of the Spiritual Emphasis Program, but the inspiration of the conference remained with all who participated. Mike Ferguson, right, and Linda Kane, not pictured, acted as co-chairmen of the Conference.

Informal fireside discussion groups gave students the opportunity to discuss the similarities and differences of the represented religions and the place of religion in the world.

Bill McCadden (43) and Pasco Arritola (32) fight for the ball as Frank Chase (32) looks on in a very tense moment during the Northwest Nazarene game in the college coliseum.

The Collegians

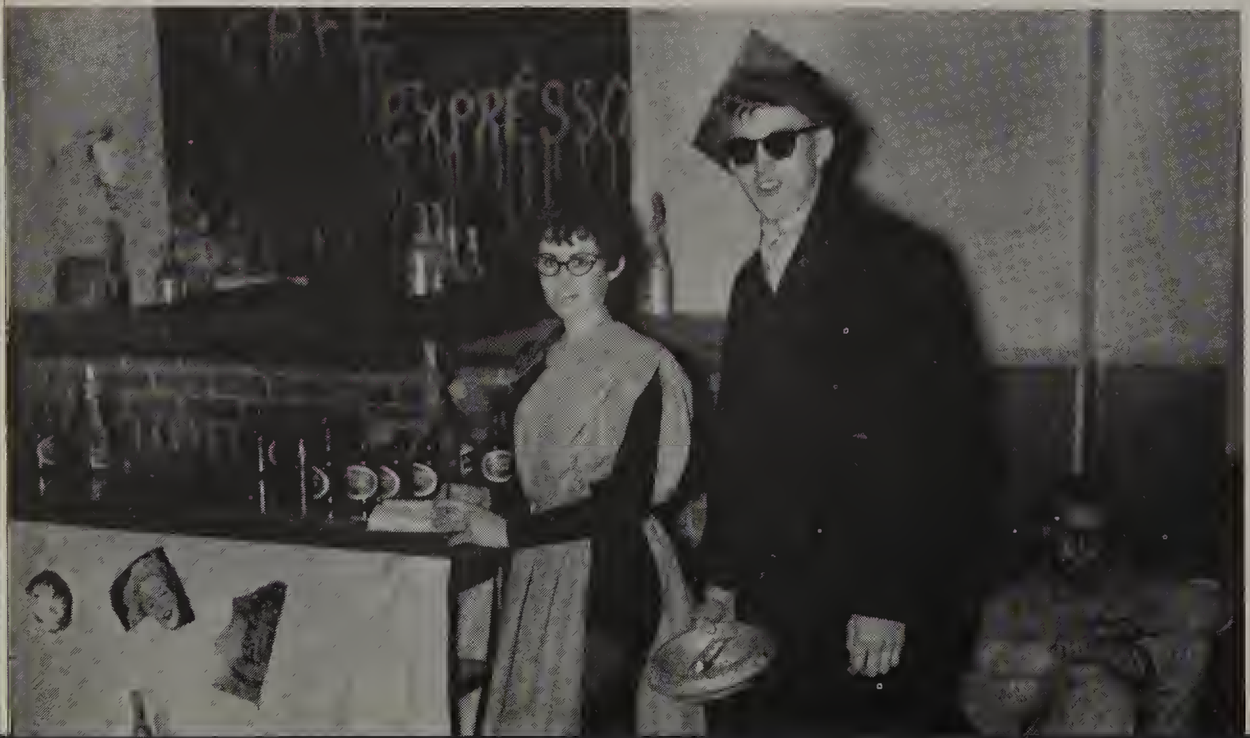
The Collegians were actively organized for their second year on campus. This group earned a name for itself by taking the honor, together with I.R.C., of first prize for their float presented in the Homecoming Parade. Traditionally, they may decorate the Queen's float next year. They also successfully sponsored the Beatnik Ball and a car wash. The purpose of this group is to improve communication and activities of off-campus students. Officers include: Floyd Cline, President; Greg Baker, Vice-President; Louise Young, Secretary-Treasurer; Sarah Workman and Dave Skeen, Student Council Representatives.



Bunny Moyer and Dan Simmons were selected as the best girl and boy beatnik at the Beatnik Ball held in Hoke Hall, Winter Term. This dance, presented by The Collegians, was decorated with an air of Cafe Expresso and was made complete with the reading of contemporary jazz and an intellectual beat dance routine.

Mr. Hiatt, Working?

The Bishop's Players' presentation of "The Devil and Daniel Webster" opened Spring term's dramatic season.

Presenting one of the most enjoyable assemblies this year, was Phil Hansen, a noted Shakespearean actor. Mr. Hansen, who is connected with the Ashland Shakespearean Festival, presented a program on "Kings and Clowns of Shakespeare."

Classes disrupted in Hoke, Mr. Hartig.

EOC Band

In addition to playing for all home football and basketball games, the Eastern Oregon College Band took a concert tour during spring vacation. During the week's tour the band played concerts in four states — California, Nevada, Idaho, and Oregon. Representing the E.O.C. Student Body, Sandra Thompson served as Mistress of Ceremonies. One of the highlights of this tour was the Saturday night spent in Reno, Nevada. The band ended its concert season by giving its annual concert for Parents Weekend.

Making outstanding performances for the EOC production were Dave Skeen, baritone; Sylvia Thompson, alto; Ardyce Garrett, pianist; Neil Wilson, director; Mrs. Jack Vedder, organist; Howard Anderson, tenor; and Patsy Hutchinson, soprano.

The Christmas Oratorio was composed in 1734 during Bach's period of service as organist and choir master at the St. Thomas School in Leipzig. The work is divided into six parts to be performed respectively on the first, second, and third days of the Festival of Christmas, on New Year's Day, on the Sunday after this, and on the Festival of the Epiphony. Each of the six parts is a cantata, complete and independent of the other five sections, yet unmistakably linked with them in style and mood.

The Glass Menagerie

Tennessee Williams' nostalgic and moving memoir-in-play-form, "The Glass Menagerie," has gone on from its Broadway success to a welcome in many different corners of the world.

In the Eastern Oregon College version, Mike Hanford, a Sock and Buskin veteran, played Tom, the narrator. Collette Wardell was Laura, the young crippled girl who is "like a piece of her own glass collection" and Mary Coffey enacted the Laurette Taylor role of Amanda, the mother, "a woman of great but confused vitality clinging frantically to another time and place." The Sock and Buskin production featured Bob Miller, another veteran, as the "nice, ordinary young man" known as The Gentleman Caller.

It was certainly a club that was "going places and doing things". The whole campus sat up and took notice as the Outing Club sponsored their semi-weekly lectures literally covering everything from diving and underwater recovery to wild life in the hills and the birds overhead. Besides these the club also took two weekend outings to Wallowa Lake, a snowshoe trip up Mt. Emily, and rose early in the morning to travel to the sage grouse breeding grounds.

Scattered throughout the audience were numerous black horses pinned to shoulders. The EOC campus was covered with signs "Vote . . . Dark Horse Candidate for President." A rather dead campaign came to life — who was this candidate. The primary election put the Dark Horse candidate, Bill Lovelady, and John Dahlstrom on top. The final week was busy with radio debates, more and more signs, and class speeches. Election Day voting was brisk — more than half the student body voted.

A familiar view of Hoke, before its face lifting.

Hoke Hall is perhaps the best known and most frequented building on campus. It serves as Student Union Building plus containing classrooms and offices. Hoke is the place to meet old friends and make new ones.

Beginning with Spring term, however, the usual was somewhat disrupted. No one seemed to mind, for all looked forward to the new coffee shop, enlarged lounge, and some to the new classrooms. The remodeling of Hoke is just another step in the building program.

Even though work was just beginning on most of Hoke, our lovely new bookstore in the basement was finished during Spring vacation and ready for use by the beginning of the term.

Even though it may be only a hole now . . .

With a little more work it begins taking on the form of a building.

Even Song

Each Spring in Grecian style, EOC traditionally honors knowledge and learning in the twilight ceremony of Evensong. This lovely and impressive ceremony is a fitting prelude to graduation. Solemnly EOC students mount the Grand Stairway to sing their traditional college songs after which each senior lights his torch of knowledge from the torch of the Queen of Knowledge, Jane Denison. After the torches are lighted the Seniors descend the Grand Staircase and the underclassmen ascend to symbolize their return to school the next year. This year the Queen's Coronation took place during the Evensong Ceremony rather than at the dance.

Evensong Queen

QUEEN JANIE DENISON

She walks in beauty, like the night
of cloudless chimes and starry skies;
And all that's best of dark and bright
meet in her aspect and her eyes!
—Byron

Jane Denison (center), Pendleton, was named Eastern Oregon College Queen of Knowledge and reigned over traditional Evensong ceremonies June 3. Members of the Evensong Court include (left) Sylvia Thompson, Ontario; Lynette Pershall Wood, Vale; Donna Johnson, Wallowa; Queen Jane; Lois Hunter and Beverly Donovan, Pendleton; and Carolyn Muller Ferguson, St. Helens. The girls are chosen on the basis of scholarship, poise, beauty, speaking ability and service to the school. Below, the Queen's Ball.
